

57. CRESCENDO

Crescendo is a new adaptation of our highly popular team building program, Orchestrate. Unlike Orchestrate, Crescendo uses only one room and takes a single hour, so it's perfect for busy conferences!

Our instructors assign your team members one of two classical string instruments: the violin or the viola. Then, they quickly teach them the basics of playing, and get them learning their part for our custom made composition. At the end, with the accompaniment of our bespoke backing track, the two sections will make beautiful music together.

Learning and development outcomes

Not many individuals can learn to play classical music in under an hour, but a team of people working in synergy can. In changing markets it is vital that team members are able to quickly adapt their skills and roles to maintain the effectiveness of the team to both act and react with optimal speed and efficiency. Crescendo achieves this and more, with participants being amazed by what they can achieve in a limited amount of time before they go live.
